In the Consumption of Champagne Wine in this country, the following cities rank in the order named: New York, Chicago, New Orleans, San Francisco and Washington. By this it will be seen that the city of the nation's legislators consumes more of the sparkling beverage than either Beston, St. Louis and other larger cities of the Union. The favorite brand of champers with white representations. pagne this winter appears to be the cele-brated "Morizet," which is on sale at the leading houses and restaurants in the city.

THE PUBLIC HEALTH.

The Discussion in To-Day's Session of The Association.

Last evening's session of the American Public Health Association at Willard Hall was an interesting one, and the attendance was large, including many ladies. Com-missioners Edmonds and Webb, Represent-Townshend and twelve ex-presidents of the association occupied seats on the platform. An address of welcome was delivered by Dr. Toner, after which a letter was readfrom President Cleveland, expressing regret at not being able to attend, and assuring the convention that such an expression was not morely formal, but actually indicated a sense of deprivation which attended an inability to give by his presence, as requested, the fullest indorsament of the objects and purposes as well as the work of the association. The President elaborated somawhat in his letter the necessity for the advancement of sanitary science.

The communication was entinesistically received, and Mr. Cleveland was elected an honorary member of the association, being the first person to whom this honor has been given association occupied seats on the platform.

In the name of the citizens of the District Commissioner Edmonds made a brief address of welcome to the association, and was followed by Representative Townshend of Illineis in a series of interesting and appropriate remarks. Senator Harris and Representative Beach, who were on the programme for addresses, could not attend on account of other engagements.

Dr. Reeves of Wheeling, the president of the association, then delivered the annual address, in which he said, among other things of interest, that we are to-day at the very threshold of great possibilities in preventive remedies, and that the General Government should foster every effort for the success of the work in which sanitarians are so heartily engaged. The association met again this morning at 9230 o'clock.

The second day's session opened with an met again this morning at 9:30 o'clock.

The second day's session opened with an increased attendance. Several very interesting papers were read, each being limited to twenty minutes, followed by discussions, in which some of the brightest intellects took part. The report of the committee on disinfectants was distributed around the hall instead of being read. In this way the members had an opportunity to read the report before the convention assembled. Dr. Sternberg of Baltimore, the chairman of this committee, is on his way home from Europe, and as he has given this subject a deal of careful investigation, the members of the association regret that he is not present to take part in the discussion. The subject matter of the report was discussed this morning.

Dr. Bryce of Toronto read a paper on "Small-pox in Canada and the Methods of Dealing with It in the Different Provinces." He was followed by Dr. C. W. Chanceller of Baltimore on "Impure Air and Unhealthy Occupations as Predisposing Causes of Pulmonary Consumption."

At the afternoon session Dr. Granville P. Coun of New Hampshire made a report from the committee on State boards of health. There were also papers and discussions on subjects relative to the work of hoards of health, State and municipal.

The subjects of the papers to be read at the session this evening are as follows: "The Debit and Credit Account of the Plymouth Epidemic." by Dr. Benjamin Lee of Philadelphia: "The Proper Disposal of the Dead," by Dr. John Morris of Baltimore; "The German System of Physical Education," by Dr. E. M. Hartwell of Johns Hopkins University, Baltimore, and "Experiences in Disinfecting Sowers," by Dr. O. W. Wight of Detroit.

IN THE ASSOCIATION.

The Nationals Substituted For the Metropolitans.
At a special meeting of the American secciation of baseball clubs in Philadelphia vesterday afternoon it was decided to phia yesterday afternoon it was decided to drop the Metropolitan Club, which had been recently transferred to Staten Island, and to substitute the National Club of this city. The managers of the Washington club were unwilling to be trifled with by the League any longer and determined to do what they could with the association. The following official announcement was made: To the representatives of the Metropolitan Base-official announcement was made:

To the representatives of the Metropolitan Base-ball Clab:

At a special meeting of the American Association of baseball clubs, held in accordance with the constitution, the membership of the Metropolitan Baseball Club was declared forfeited and the constitution so amended as to confer a membership in this association to the National Club of Washington.

The clubs of the Association were represented at the meeting by Philips and Nimmick of Pittsburg, Sharszig and Simmons of the Athletic, Barnie of Baltimore, Doyle and Byrne of Brooklyn. Caylor and Herincourt of Checimati, Hart and Phelps of Louisville and Von Der Ahe of St. Louis. The action in regard to the Metropolitan Club was unanimous, and why it was taken in brief was explained as follows: The Mets, together with the New York club, formed the Metropolitan Exhibition Company of New York. Played under the same management, the Mets became only a tender to the League club, and it is not believed that the sale was a bona fide one. The supposition is that it was a sharp trick to get the Meta out of New York city, and that the club would be transferred back to the Exhibition Company as soon as everything was all right. Further, the League had dropped Providence and Buffalo, leaving only six clubs. Negotiations were pending with Washington with the purpose of securing a Western club. The Association takes in Washington, drops the Mets, and the League will be compelled to play the season out with but six clubs. Still further, the Association now feels strong emough to stand alone, and if the League objects to the wiping out of the Mets they are willing to break the national agreement and allow each organization to paddle its own canoe. Rules were adopted by which a player released can select the club he desires to play with thereafter and becomes eligible to join the team at once. Of the late "Mets" it is supposed that Orr and Roseman are to go to cliher Brooklyn or Louisville, Cusbman, Lynch, Relpschlager and Holbert to the Nation at once. Of the late "Mets" it is supposed that Orr and Roseman are to go to either Brooklyn or Louisville, Cushman, Lynch, Reipschlager and Holbert to the National, Hankinson to Pittsburg and Nelson and Brady to Baltimore.

Mr. Erastus Wiman, who purchased the Metropolitans' franchise for $25,000 to establish them on Staten Island, is naturally somewhat Indignant at being left without players and denounces the action of the Association.

Mr. George F. Williams, the secretary of the Metropolitans, said last night that Mr. Wiman had consulted eminent legal advice, and was informed that the so-called expulsion of the Metropolitans was wholly illegal, and that he had a remedy in the courts, and should the association persist in its action, Mr. Wiman would at once institute legal proceedings against each and all the members for $50,000 damages for the direct losses sustained. direct losses sustained.
